health itself depends.

Many people who are victims of disease become discouraged because they have failed to find a cure, or even relief, after years perhaps of medical treatment. Is this tae case with you? If so, don't give up; remember that BUPEPSIA TABLETS have cured thousands of diseased stomachs that would not yield to any other treatment. Dyspeptics who suffored the torture of indigestion and its accompanying misery of body and mind for many long years, have been cured by using three or four buxes of these tablets (at a cost of about $2.00), after spending thousands of dollars in fruitless doctoring. The following testimonial, which came to us without any solicitation on our part, is from a lady who endured the suffering incident to a weak and disordered stomach for thirty-three years. ALFRED GREEN.

To see the moving pictures and the big. busy world, Harry Wicher, 8 years old, and Alfred Geen, 7 years old, young adventurers of Tuxedo Park, St. Louis County, set out from home yesterday noon with a firm determination and a dollar, to increase their knowledge of men and things.

When they had spent 19 cents and as many minutes in looking at the moving pictures in a place near Union Station, they started in search of more thrilling They met a newsboy two or three years older than they and much better schooled in the wiles of the world. In ten minutes more they had lost their regard for their new acquaintance—and the remnants of their original capital. The newsboy took the money and then departed.

The prospect in the big world grew dismai. Tears dimmed the outlook considerably. The adventurers felt their boldness desert them, and they did a thing which may lose them their reputations as boys of self-reliance. They went in search of a policeman.

Private Watchman McKee of the Union Station and Patroiman Andrew McClelland heard the story of the mishap that had spoiled the expedition, and took the boys to the Four Courts.

Harry Green and Edgur Wicher, fathers of the boys, were notified by telephone that their sons were waiting for funds to carry them back home.

Both youngsters sat in the same chair while they entertained Captain Reynolds and others in the Central Station with their pranks on Halloween. They were hungry and dirty, but also reformed, when they left St. Louis to return to Tuxedo.

Marriage Certificate.

John Kelley and Miss Lillian Martin of St. Louis eloped to Collinsville and were married. Then they returned home for the parental blessing and the killing of the fatted calf. The bride's father killed the calf all right, but withheld the blessing until the br-degroom could produce the credentials.

The couple slipped away from St. Louis without telling anyone and were married by Judge Joseph Kleisner. Then they boarded an electric car for home and burst in on the bride's father with the news. He was not overloyed at first, but finally ordered a banquet.

After supper he demanded the marriage certificate, fearing that he was being certificate, fearing that he was being hoaxed. The bridegroom fished through one pocket after another, and his air of self-complacency gave way to alarm. He finally declared that the document was lost. Father smiled agressically and told Kelley to go hence.

The outcome was that Kelley had to leave his bride, by this time in tears, in her old home until the following day, when he made a second trip to Collinsville and secured a cover of the certificate.

nounced that there was phosphorus in the candy.

Then it developed, according to the testimony of witnesses, that Peter Florien had seen Milada Hoffman cross the street and threw the bundle into the yard. Mrs. Keilbach, in her testimony before the Grand Jury, said: "My mother hollered across the street to me and said: 'If that candy is not going to kill you. I will cut your tongue out, or get you some other way, as you must die in sight of my eyes.' I told her it was a mean trick for her to try to kill her own daughter. Mother irled to kill me when I was a little girl. My sister admitted to Mrs. Anstedt that she had carried the bundle."

The Grand Jury decided not to report an indictment and returned a "no true bill."

The physic habit is more dangerous than dyspepsia

Dyspepsia often causes intense distress and pain, which is quickly relieved by a thorough physic, but unless the proper remedy is taken the patient is very spt to find him-self a slave to the "Physic Habit." This is caused by the severe shock which the drug gives to the intestinal muscles making them so weak they are unable to voluntarily perform their functions. The bowels cannot act of their own accord and so the physic which caused the trouble is taken again but in a larger dose in order to accomplish results. The need for such an artificial treatmest becomes chronic and the size of the dose must be gradually incressed. The patient at last becomes a confirmed victim of the "Physic Habit," and his strength and health rapidly

does not act like other laxatives. Instead of weakening the intestinal muscles it so strengthens them that they can perform their functions unsided. It is a pleasant remedy to take, and rapidly strengthens all the muscles brough its great tonic properties. In cases of dyspepals it quickly relieves the pein and soon affects a permanent cure. All druggiets sell Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin at 50 cents and $2 a bottle.
